

About Anna's Case:

- Can you give me more details regarding her death and why you believe it was preventable?
- What should have been done for Anna?
- Why didn't you step in if you thought it was so preventable?
- What was the doctors' and the hospital's response to you?
- What do you wish you would have done differently for her?
- Did you, or our family, receive any malpractice money? If so, how much? If not, why not?

About Medical Errors

- How should I start a conversation if I think an error has been made in my, or my loved one's, care?
- I've seen varying numbers regarding the actual number of medical error deaths – what is the actual number?
- Aren't electronic medical records supposed to be helping reduce these numbers?
- Why must I re-tell my whole medical history to each provider – can't they just read my chart?
- Why does my provider become frustrated if I bring in articles off the internet?
- My loved one lives far from me, how can I participate in his/her care, to help them?